

PICNIC ENJOYED BY THOUSANDS

Westhampton Park Is Thronged With Street Car Employees and Their Families.

EAT HUNDREDS OF MELONS

Sporting Events for Men, Women and Children Crown the Day's Pleasure.

"Eat, drink and be merry" was the motto of the four thousand holiday-makers at Westhampton Park all yesterday, and they lived to it in the fullest sense of the words. The day had been looked forward to for weeks—nay, for months. Then why should it not be enjoyed as an occasion of festivity and general rejoicing? was the thought uppermost in the minds of all those who remained unexpressed, except through the unfeeling signs writ large upon the happy visages of all.

Fortunately, Providence seemed to favor the day, for there was no rain, as might have been expected from the general weather-forecast, and, though, perhaps, old Sol shed forth more than the necessary amount of warmth, the day was very fair. The grass was green, the air was fragrant with the scent of the recent rains, the wood notes of the birds with the sweet natural odors of the earth, and, altogether, the day was passing fine. Had there been another Byron present, he might have added a stanza to the great epic of "Childe Harold," where the gentle knight speaks of the pleasure of "the pathless woods," or another Wordsworth might have written lines equal to those on Tintern Abbey.

Made Day of It.

As for the throng, it could have met ten of Caesar's legions, man for man, and have had a reserve force of as many women and babes.

From 9:30 o'clock in the morning until long after the sun had gone down to the Elysian fields the crowds were coming and going, and there was never a car that did not bear its full quota of the human burden. For wide there on the grassy slopes were those who had passed the allotted time of three score and ten, and yet who seemed to enjoy themselves with all the exuberance of returned youth; there were the middle-aged, there were married men and boys, there were bachelors in arms. All threw themselves into the pleasure of the hour with unequalled zest, and there was no effort spared by the various committees to add to the general enjoyment.

To relieve the monotony of the expression of thanks, they may feel that their reward was not forgotten, nor underserved; for in all the thousands there was not a heart ungrateful or one that did not show the keenest interest in the day's events.

To relieve the monotony of the expression of thanks, they may feel that their reward was not forgotten, nor underserved; for in all the thousands there was not a heart ungrateful or one that did not show the keenest interest in the day's events.

They played and tumbled in the grass, or sought other pleasure in the merry-go-round, which was in operation all day long. The men had, too, besides the other games and sports, the bowling alleys, and great crowds of them congregated together to try their skill with the heavy spheres.

Well-Filled Baskets.

There was no lack of refreshments. The wives and mothers brought with them well filled baskets and hamper, and a company supplied an ample stock of lemonade and a carload of watermelons.

The beverage was kept on tap in a movable car, and thither the women flocked to fill their pitchers and the children to drink as many times as they wanted. The melons were all that could be desired. Many of them were left over, for the people became satiated long before they came to the last of the fruit of the creeping vine.

The sports began in the early morning and lasted until after tea, and the variety furnished an ample source of amusement, both to the young and the old. They proceeded merrily from the first until the last, the games being varied from a girl's three-foot race and a woman's peanut race, to the men's tug of war and baseball game. All the winners were rewarded with prizes, many of them both handsome and of undoubted utility.

There was only one thing that occurred which might have marred the serene enjoyment of the day; but, fortunately, it came and passed without accident or harm to a single body.

Car No. 132, on its return trip in the afternoon from the park, was derailed a short distance from the terminus of the Westhampton line. In some unaccountable manner the rails spread, and the forward truck left the track. The car was stopped immediately by the quick-witted motorman, and it came to a halt before the seventy-five passengers were aware of what had happened. The crew was quickly summoned, and the car was quickly righted. There was no hurt to anybody, the only result being that traffic was delayed for half an hour or so. Indeed, the passengers and power company are to be congratulated and commended for the manner in which they coped so splendidly with the heavy traffic.

The outing lasted until half-past nine, and then the last lingering ones, faint to linger still, began their homeward journey, to look after this picnic and to be seen anticipating the next.

CUBAN TOWNS IN DREAD OF ATTACK

with 850 animals, which had been hurriedly sent for by telegraph.

Conference Held.

A conference was held at the palace this morning at which President Palma, his cabinet and many of the generals were present. After it had been concluded it was announced that Col. Estrampes would be sent to meet Pino Guerra, and that the government would spare no expense to put down the revolt.

Shortly thereafter followed rumors that the secretary of the government, Senator O'Farrell, and the secretary of agriculture, Senator Canoso might resign. It was said that Secretary O'Farrell would have relinquished his office immediately had General Montalvo been put in charge of the field operations instead of Col. Estrampes.

MANY RUMORS OF FIGHTS IN CUBA

Revolution Has Reached Height, but Situation Is Regarded as Grave.

(By Associated Press.)

HAVANA, August 21.—The indications to-night are that the revolution in Western Cuba already has practically reached its maximum. The government and people generally believe the movement will be likely to gain. The promissiveness of the government in arresting suspected leaders and in sending reinforcements to the disturbed districts, has had an excellent effect in strengthening public confidence and overawing sympathizers with the movement.

On the other hand, and notwithstanding the quietude in the Pinar del Rio region throughout to-day, peaceable inhabitants of the cities of Pinar del Rio, Consolacion del Sur, San Juan del Martinez and other western towns are in hourly apprehension of the attack and occupation of those places. The fact that probably one thousand insurgents are tenting to concentrate in the province of Pinar del Rio upon towns inadequately guarded by small detachments of rural guards, mostly inexperienced in warfare, makes the situation grave, but as the insurgents have not assumed any strongly offensive attitude or interfered with trains carrying troops, horses, and supplies, it is inferred that they are not prepared or believe made out of 25 consecutive shots. To between C. C. Sharpe, J. C. Bookman, H. M. Fatsley, each making eleven. It was a loss for who won, C. C. Sharpe being lucky. One pair got cut buttons.

SECRETARY WILSON'S SECRET INSPECTION

(By Associated Press.)

OMAHA, Neb., August 21.—Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture, unannounced, arrived at a local hotel, and without registering or disclosing his identity, early this morning drove alone to the packing plants in South Omaha.

After a short inspection of several of the plants, J. E. Wilson, secretary of the department, returned to his hotel, saying he was going to Omaha, but I don't want my identity known. I have inspected all the packing plants, and found them in good condition. I will go from Omaha to Minneapolis.

Lynched One Anyhow.

(By Associated Press.)

TAMPA, Fla., August 21.—While the police authorities were bringing Will Lawrence, a negro, to Tampa last night to prevent his being lynched, an infuriated mob at Mulberry, in Polk county, hanged John B. Bape, a negro, and killed his wife with bullets. Bape attempted to kill Captain Hughes, a prominent white man. Lawrence was charged with an attempted criminal assault on a young white woman.

Preferred It as God Made It.

Andrew Carnegie once delivered a little homily to the pupils of a public school in Washington, says Harper's Weekly, wherein he endeavored to demonstrate that the judgment of men is apt to be warped by sentiment and feeling.

"In Scotland," asserted Mr. Carnegie, "the people abominated byms simply because the Episcopalians used them. The Presbyterians sang only the Psalms of David. The Episcopalians used stained glass in their church windows, and for that reason the Scotch looked upon stained glass as something of unholy origin."

Continuing, Mr. Carnegie told a story of a Presbyterian minister who had been bold enough to introduce this hated innovation. He was the first to do so in one of his parishioners and asked her how she liked it.

"Ay, it is handsome," said she, sadly, "but I prefer the glass just as God made it."

VIRGINIAN SHOT DOWN BY NEGRO IN ALABAMA

(By Associated Press.)

TALLADEGA, Ala., August 21.—In a difficulty at the Planters' Chemical Company's plant, G. J. Powell, assistant superintendent, was shot and killed by John Sims, a negro, and P. O. Crowder, superintendent, was shot through the thigh. The trouble was caused by an impudent message the negro sent by the superintendent. Powell's father lives in Houston, Texas, and Crowder is a Virginian. The negro escaped.

Engineer Escaped.

(By Associated Press.)

HELSINGFORS, August 21.—Eight masked men to-day seized Engineer Lindestad, of the Finnish Railroad, intending to execute him for betraying the names of the members of the Red Guard, who blew up the railroad line during the Sveaborg mutiny. Lindestad escaped by declaring that the offender was another man of the same name.

CONSOLIDATED MAKES PURCHASE

(By Associated Press.)

BUFFALO, N. Y., August 21.—B. G. Hubbell, president of the Consolidated Telephone Company, to-day confirmed the report that the Consolidated has bought from the Great Eastern Telephone Company the latter's franchise to maintain and contract telephones, telegraph lines and electric lights in New York city.

The purchase price is said to be $50,000, but Mr. Hubbell would not confirm this. A syndicate is to be formed to take the franchise, and an operating company later will be formed to operate an independent telephone service in New York in connection with the independent companies controlled by the Consolidated, which number about seventy.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, August 21.—Doctors D. N. Evans, of Morris Plains, N. J., and C. J. Wagner, of this city, called on Harry K. Thaw, who shot and instantly killed Stanford White, in the Tombs to-day. Both physicians are known as alienists, and Dr. Evans figured in the Zimmerman trial. Clifford W. Hartbridge, counsel for Thaw, accompanied the doctors.

The visit gave rise to reports that a mental examination of Thaw was to be made, but Dr. Frank McGuire, the Tombs physician, who went to Thaw's cell when informed of the visit, was assured that this was not so.

Miss Mary McKenzie, the actress, visited Thaw to-day, in company with Mrs. Thaw. This is the first time since the trial, Clifford W. Hartbridge, counsel for Thaw, accompanied the doctors.

I hereby certify that I had been suffering with severe chills and malaria fever for several months. One bottle of "Elizir Babek" has effected a perfect cure. I have had no symptoms of chills since, and never felt better.

M. B. LATIMER, Eleventh Street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C.

I have tried "Babek" for the past four years, both as a preventative and cure for malaria, and found it to be more than a claim for it. Without it I would be obliged to change my residence, as I can not take quinine in any of its forms.

WEDDING BELLS IN OLD VIRGINIA

Brilliant Country Marriage in Cold Springs Presbyterian Church.

MISS PEMBERTON THE BRIDE

Wedded to Mr. Henry Emerson Biggs, of Raleigh—A Post-Wedding Luncheon.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BRISTOL, Va., August 21.—The most thrilling marriage celebrated in the rural districts of this region in years was consummated at Cold Springs Presbyterian Church, in Holston Valley, at high noon to-day, when Miss Nell Pemberton became the bride of Mr. Henry Emerson Biggs, of Raleigh, N. C. The edifice was elaborately decorated. Dr. J. Albert Wallace of Bristol, was the officiating minister. The event was witnessed by as many people as could gain admittance to the church. Miss Lillian Wallace, of Bristol, was maid of honor. Mr. Richard Albrook, of Raleigh, was the groom's best man. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Thomas D. Pemberton. The attendants included ladies and gentlemen from several States. A reception followed at the home of the bride's mother, and supper was served to 150 guests. The bride and groom left at 10 o'clock to-night, and were entertained at luncheon at Hotel Hamilton. The bride and groom left at midnight on their bridal tour.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mrs. Sue Pemberton, and is a social favorite. The groom is a prominent insurance man of Raleigh.

STATE POLITICS.

Several Candidates for Supreme Court Reporter.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

RALEIGH, N. C., August 21.—The question of who will succeed J. Crawford Biggs as Supreme Court reporter after he goes on the Superior Court bench next year is looming up now as the date for the convening of the session of the Supreme Court approaches. It will probably be some time after the court convenes before the election of Mr. Biggs's successor is held. Already there are numerous candidates. Among the Raleigh candidates who are aspirants are Perlin Lusbee, R. L. Gray, A. J. Field and others. It is probable also that J. S. Sewell, assistant clerk of the Supreme Court, will be a candidate. He was in the race a year ago, when Mr. Biggs was elected. Mr. George P. Poll, of Winston-Salem, is in the race, and will be a strong candidate. He was clerk to the Code Commission in the recent codification of North Carolina laws, and did especially creditable work in that connection.

Friends of J. S. Manning, of Durham, are authority for the statement that he will be in the race for the speakership of the next House of Representatives.

Governor Cuthbert has announced the resignation of Ira R. Humphreys as a member of the lower House of the North Carolina General Assembly. He resigns to become public guardian for Rockingham county.

CARPENTERS' STRIKE.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., August 21.—An axle on a fifty-ton steel coal gondola, near the center of a long coal train broke this morning at 11:40 o'clock as the train was passing rapidly through a cut near Orleana, about thirty miles above this city. Half a dozen loaded coal cars piled on top of one another, and for some distance the cut seemed to be filled with coal, twisted rails and smashed cars.

All afternoon the wreckers labored, but even the sidetrack had not been cleared in time to allow the afternoon train to pass. Passengers were transferred, the train from Richmond and the one from here exchanging loads. The sidetrack has now been cleared, but the main line is still blocked.

Trainmaster E. I. Ford stated to-night that the damage was comparatively slight.

Firm Offers Rewards for Cutter of Belts in Their Plant.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

RALEIGH, N. C., August 21.—The carpenters' strike here is dragging its length along without any special change except for the leaving of numbers of the strikers from time to time for other places to get work. The non-union working force is growing, and the contractors and wood-working plants claim that they have all the labor they need in small terms of the Baker-Thompson company report that several times the past few days bolts in their plant have been cut, as they believe, by some unscrupulous striker who went out of their mill.

They have offered $100 reward for evidence to convict the guilty party.

A WAIF DIES.

Child Thrown in a Ditch Recovered—Dies of Other Trouble.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

SUFFOLK, Va., August 21.—After nearly three months the infant for whom a North Carolina General Assembly Bill was passed, died to-day in Southampton county, near Sunbeam, Va. The child, which had been adopted by reputable people in Suffolk, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cook, and who was named George Wilber, was ill for three weeks after the mother had thrown it in a ditch.

The mother was held for murder until the child was pronounced out of danger. The adopted parents had become attached to the infant, which seemed to thrive for a while, and which was taken ill only a day or two ago.

Now that the young one is dead the mother may be rearrested, though at the time of the infant's apparent recovery no one seemed disposed to prosecute.

At a recent trial of Etta's arrest, she was registered at the best hotel in town.
